The Faculty of Education at Laurentian University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in its School of Education.

About Laurentian University

Laurentian University serves over 9,000 students on its main campus in Sudbury, Ontario, and is one of two bilingual universities in the province of Ontario. Laurentian has been in a phase of steady growth, realizing more than $150M in capital investments over the past five years. These include the McEwen School of Architecture, the award-winning Vale Living with Lakes Centre, a new student residence, the modernization of classrooms and labs, and the completion of an Executive Learning Centre, an Indigenous Sharing and Learning Centre and a University Club. Committed to its bilingual, tri-cultural mandate, Laurentian University offers an outstanding university experience in English and French with a comprehensive approach to Indigenous education.

Laurentian’s beautiful, forested campus is surrounded by fresh-water lakes, conservation lands and hundreds of kilometres of cross-country trails. Your commute can be life-changing: you might cycle, ski, snowshoe or kayak to work, and you can take a lunch break at Laurentian’s private beach. The university is situated in the geographic centre of Greater Sudbury, northern Ontario’s major urban centre (population 160,000). Laurentian University has close and productive ties to Science North, SNOLAB, Health Sciences North and two post-secondary partners, Collège Boréal and Cambrian College.

About the Position

The appointment will begin on January 1st, 2018. Applicants should hold an earned doctorate in Education, Language and Literacy Education, or Curriculum Studies, and must have a minimum of three years of K-12 teaching experience. The successful candidate will be expected to teach in both of Laurentian University’s official languages, English and French, in the areas of language and literacy education, as well as in one or more of the following areas:

- Instructional strategies
- Assessment and evaluation
- Indigenous education
- Second/additional language acquisition
- Arts education
Applicants must demonstrate evidence of quality teaching and an emerging or established program of educational research. The successful candidate will contribute to the teaching and research missions of the university, and will participate actively in collective governance, providing service to the Faculty of Education, as well as to the broader university and educational communities.

Application Requirements

Applications, including a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching, an overview of research interests, and a curriculum vitae should be sent as PDF files to vpap@laurentian.ca. In addition, applicants should arrange to have three letters of reference directly sent to the email address above. Review of applications will begin September 15th, 2017 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Questions concerning the position may be directed to Dr. Lace Marie Brogden, Dean of Education, via FacEduc@laurentian.ca.

University Policy

Laurentian University is an equal opportunity employer and is strongly committed to employment equity and diversity within its community. Laurentian University especially welcomes and encourages applications from members of visible minorities, women, Aboriginal persons, members of sexual minorities and persons with disabilities. Applicants may self-identify as a member of an employment equity group. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply. However, Canadians and permanent residents will be considered first for this position. The University has a policy of passive bilingualism (English/French) as a condition of tenure. Information can be found at www.laurentian.ca. LU faculty members are part of the Laurentian University Faculty Association (LUFA). Candidates are advised to consult the Collective Agreement at www.lufapul.ca.
